We're on a mission. As a fast-growing software company on the cutting-edge of technology, Plex is revolutionizing global manufacturing in the same way cloud solutions have transformed sales, marketing, and human capital management.

We want manufacturers to succeed. That's why we're on a mission to replace underperforming, on-premise enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems with the Plex Manufacturing Cloud—ERP built for today's model of manufacturing.

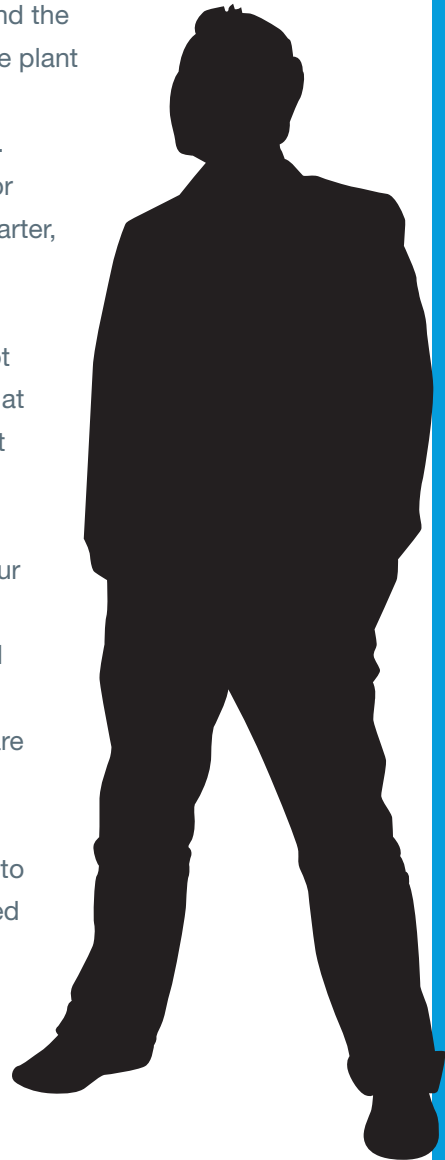

We're seeking highly skilled, passionate people to help us do something daring, difficult, and incredibly rewarding. We're looking for people who want to help transform an industry with cloud technology solutions. If you're ready to be inspired, solve problems, grow professionally, and unleash your talent, we're looking for you.

What is the Plex Manufacturing Cloud? Plex is the engine behind the manufacturing economy, powering the first ERP cloud built specifically for the plant floor. The Plex Manufacturing Cloud delivers anywhere, anytime access to all operational functions and management features using a secure web browser. Hundreds of companies in aerospace and defense, food and beverage, motor vehicles, and other industries, use the Plex Cloud to run their businesses smarter, leaner, and more profitably.

A great place to grow. Plex employees are very happy people. It's not our generous benefits, nice office space, flextime, or even our great coffee that keeps us smiling. It's our sense of purpose, the feeling that when you work at Plex, you're part of something good—and something bigger.

At Plex, we treat our employees as partners. This is the same way we treat our customers. We know that our success depends entirely upon helping our employees and customers grow. Our commitment to people extends beyond the office to the communities in which we live and work. Charitable giving, volunteering and sponsorship of school projects in science and technology are also part of our DNA.

So, who are we? People like you—people who work together and work hard to make extraordinary things happen for our customers. The Plex team is excited about what we do and where we work. We've created an inviting workspace that fosters a culture of collaboration, innovation, and excitement.

A rewarding experience.

Balance and Flexibility

Plex employees enjoy the flexibility to achieve sustainable work-life balance. This approach gives employees the autonomy to complete their work while working within their department's needs.

Locations

Our offices in Michigan and California offer a casual-dress workplace, complimentary food and drink, and "de-stress areas" complete with video games and ping pong tables.

Benefits

Generous benefits include health, dental, vision, life and disability insurance, along with 401(k) matching program, paid vacation/holidays, tuition reimbursement and health club dues reimbursement.

Training and Development

Plex supports employees in work-related professional certification and training. For example, all of our new Software Developers participate in an intensive training program called "The U," while our Sales and Global Services team members kick off their Plex careers in our comprehensive Bootcamp program. Leadership development is encouraged, with opportunities for employees to serve as team leaders of dynamically formed work groups.

Co-Op/Intern Program

The company provides meaningful and challenging co-op and internship opportunities for students at many local and national colleges and universities. Plex often transitions graduating co-op/intern students into full-time employees.

Plex Culture Activities

Plex employees can participate in gaming competitions, Take Your Child to Work Day, community blood drives and many social and recreational events. We also offer special educational programs such as Financial & Physical Wellness Week.

Giving back. We care about supporting the communities in which we live and work. Giving back shouldn't just be a one-time gesture; it should be a continuous partnership that grows over time. We established the Plex Giving program to rally our employees to dedicate one year of service to a community organization.

Each year, Plex employees select a new community partner and support them through special company events, fundraisers and company donation matching programs. The program has also grown to include support from our customers and partners during our annual PowerPlex user conference.
